Girl Scout Cookies Are Here Earlier Than Ever Before!

Cookies will be available earlier than ever before! CookiesNOW! is the exciting new cookie sale format for the girls in Kentucky's Wilderness Road Council this year which makes cookies available for purchase immediately! Our girls will have boxes of cookies in hand to sell door to door, no need to take orders and wait weeks to receive your favorite cookie!

"Today's girls are constantly changing," said Ruby Webster, Director of Youth Services. "Girls are learning more today than ever before! The Girl Scout Cookie Sale helps get girls ready for the future, by teaching them valuable key life skills like earning, saving, and investing money. The cookie sale is an empowering experience!"

The best news is that Girl Scout Cookies in Kentucky are still just $3.50 per box, even though that same box of cookies in Ohio will cost you $4 per box.

Every penny of Girl Scout cookies sold goes to support troops directly, and to provide high quality, low cost programs and events across the Council. Cookie sales also provide scholarship assistance for girls, making sure that no girl is left out.

Cookies can be purchased directly from a local Girl Scout or at a local cookie sale drive booth. To locate Girl Scout Troops in your local area call the Kentucky Wilderness Council at 859-342-6263 or ask your neighbors and co-workers.

For more information about joining Girl Scouts, please contact Ruby Webster at [rwebster@gs wr c.org](mailto:rwebster@gs wr c.org).

Farming accident claims life of former 4-H agent Tom Stephenson

Bracken County was saddened at the death of former 4-H Extension Agent, Tom Stephenson, on Wednesday, January 22, 2013. Stephenson, 74, was apparently knocked down and attacked by a bull he was delivering to the Mason County farm of David Emmons. According to Robert Palmer, Assistant Mason County Coroner, Stephenson suffered head injuries and a possible neck fracture in the attack.

Mr. Stephenson is most remembered for "making the best better" during his 26 year tenure as the Bracken County 4-H agent. He touched the lives of hundreds if not thousands of Bracken County students and helped to shape their lives for the better through his kindness and leadership. He began as agent in 1969 and served until his retirement in February of 1995. In later years, Mr. Stephenson served on the board of the Bracken County Industrial Authority in hopes of drawing more business and industry into the county.

Mr. Stephenson is survived by his wife of 50 years, Roberta; two children, Evette and Tommy; one grandson, Tyler; one sister; and a host of other family members and friends.

"Shine A Light on Autism" rescheduled for this Thursday

Bracken County High School FCCLA has rescheduled their 2nd annual "Shine a Light on Autism" basketball game to this Thursday evening, January 30th. The game was originally set to take place last Friday, but due to the weather was cancelled early in the day.

The autism spectrum is tremendously large, ranging from mild to extremely intense cases. Considering this, Gena Brumley, Halie Melson, and Jaime Hester decided to continue to raise awareness of this life-changing disorder through the "Shine a Light on Autism" basketball game.

The game will be held in the gymnasium at BCHS, where the Polar Bears will take on the St. Patrick Saints. There will be numerous activities taking place that evening, such as a silent auction and cake auction that will begin during halftime of the varsity game.

There will also be a guest speaker, Mrs. Diana Hamilton, who will speak on how autism has affected her life. She will take the floor between the two games. The freshman game that evening begins at 5 p.m., the JV game begins at 6:15 p.m., and the varsity game begins at 7:45 p.m.

Still Made In America . . .

According to the New OxfordAmericanDictionary a “maverick” is an unorthodox or independent minded person. That was definitely the case when Irving Peck, an optician, didn’t conform to work directly beneath nor with an ophthalmologist nor optometrist, he didn’t have a doctor on staff when he started Maverick Optical. Irving wanted to have a wide selection of frames, manufacture the lenses – tighter than ANSI standards, with the latest materials and styles and have control over the quality of his product - eyeglasses.

According to federal law, a patient has the right to take his/her prescription anywhere he/she chooses to have the prescription filled and with this right and these ideas, Maverick Optical was born. As Charlie Brodt was ready to retire and Irving with a prescription order promised, Irving purchased Charlie’s optical equipment and stock. Charlie continued to see patients part-time.

Several of Irving’s free spirited ventures that continue included having over 1000 frames in stock with nationally certified, licensed opticians to help with the selection, over 100 designer sunglasses in stock and the first one hour service on most single vision lenses in Maysville. Maverick Optical guarantees the doctor’s eyeglass prescription.

Even the hours are maverick, being open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Saturday 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., closed for UK home football and basketball games.

Those original values are still the values today even though Charlie and Irving have both retired and Irving’s wife, Joyce Peck, also a licensed optician, owns Maverick Optical. Adam Bradley joined the staff in 2009, just in time to be trained by both superior opticians in the fabrication of eyewear before becoming licensed in 2013.

Many people told Irving, they didn’t think it would work – thirty years ago. Joyce put it this way, “The truth is, Maverick Optical wouldn’t have made it without the great customer support received along the way. We have been truly blessed!”

Let Maverick Optical express their appreciation by joining them as they celebrate their 30th anniversary this year and Charlie Brodt’s 97th birthday. Open house will be from 2 – 4 p.m. on Wednesday, February 5th, 2014 at 1937 Old Main Street, Maysville, to celebrate doing things your own “maverick” American way.

From Brooksville Centennial Celebration 1839-1939
Some Prominent Homes And Farms

In 1923 we added registered Jerseys, which gradually replaced the grades. Now we have an official record on every cow in the herd.

Bees were also added to our little enterprise.

On Dec. 2, 1932, we welcomed another visitor, Bob. He is in the second grade of Brooksville school now.

We decided in 1932 that a small orchard would work in well as a side line. We planted 700 apple and peach trees, which with care and attention, have come into bearing and produced a fair crop this year.

We do diversified farming and try to follow the governments soil conservation program.

We owe more than we can ever express to Dad (John Kalb, deceased in 1933) who set us an example of how farming should be done on these hills.

Our aim is to farm in such a way that when we are called away the land that has been entrusted to us will be good, or a little better, than it was when we took charge of it.

Signed, Louetta, Esther, Bob and Adam Kalb.

Dr. Chester Bryant, Mrs. Bryant and Tom Reynolds are justly proud of their stable.

Included in this stable is Prince Dave, son of Don Juan, who was shown last year and has many blue ribbons to his credit. San Chieftan, also son of Don Juan, has made a good reputation in fine harness classes. Rainbow Rhythm was recently shown at the Junior League Horse Show at Huntington, W. Va., and brought back ribbons won at this showing. Kalarama King Ping, a splendid three year old prospect, that is being trained at this time, is responding well in his gaits.

Checked Recently?

If you consider your vision to be among the most important factors contributing to your overall happiness, you should have your eyes examined regularly. Some eye diseases present few or no symptoms until they have progressed to advanced stages. Thus, regular eye exams are essential for their detection and treatment. The American Academy of Ophthalmology recommends that everyone have a comprehensive dilated eye exam at age 40 to establish a baseline for eye health. After age 65, your eyes should be checked every one to two years. Moreover, if you are at high risk for eye disease because you have diabetes, you should visit the eye doctor annually regardless of your age.

Periodic eye and vision examinations are an important part of preventive health care. Many eye and vision problems have no obvious signs or symptoms. At KENTUCKY EYE INSTITUTE, we recommend that everyone should have a yearly vision screening. The best way to prevent vision loss is to know your risk factors and have medical eye examinations at appropriate intervals. For a professional eye examination, call 606.759.7883 or 800.658.7282 to schedule an appointment. We're located at 1937 Old Main St., Suite 1, Old Washington, where new patients are always welcome. We specialize in "EYE CARE FOR ALL AGES." P.S. "The Lord is at hand; do not be anxious about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God." - Philippians 4:5-6

THE AGE OF ANXIETY

We live in perilous times. Rogue states with chemical or atomic weapons, fanatical terrorist groups spreading fear and hatred across the globe, and technology that changes too quickly for anyone to keep up with it are all part of our modern world. Our fears are stoked by the modern media's 24/7 news cycle and its insistence that something terrible is just around the corner. Even those who are not particularly tuned into the news are anxious; there is a certain anxiety that comes with our modern technology. The noise of the cell phone ringing is like an alarm going off and it's often just as startling. The ping of your computer telling you that you have a new message pushes the same anxiety button, and since our phones allow us to be constantly connected we are now living constantly with alarms, buzzers and a sense of time urgency. So, what can we do about all of this? A first step might be to choose more soothing ring tones or just to turn the computer and phone off for extended periods of time. We should also take time out of our busy schedules for solitude and quiet time, a time when we might commune with God or nature and our souls can be at rest. God does not want us to be anxious; be in His presence and trust in the Lord. — Christopher Simon

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH OF AUGUSTA by Rita Bradford

Hello & God's Blessings from The First Baptist Church of Augusta. Brother Tony's sermon was titled "Returning to the Lord". Life gets busy, we get distracted & life goes sideways, kind of like hitting an icy spot on the road, and we lose our focus on the Lord & end up in the ditch. But Jesus is always there to tow us out if we will just reach out to Him.

We invite you to come & get your spiritual life back on tract. Our services begin with Wed. Night Prayer Meeting 7:00 p.m. Sunday School is 9:30 a.m. This week's lesson is titled "Hear and Do the Word". This lesson will help you understand the power in the Word & how it can change your life. Our Sunday Morning Worship begins at 10:30 a.m. Sunday Evening Service is 6 p.m.

BROOKSVILLE ASSEMBLY OF GOD by Janice Whitney

10:00 a.m. - Christian Education: Dr. Luke in the book of Acts gives a detailed report of the birth and growth of the church of Jesus Christ in the first Century. This Sunday Pastor Norm Whitney will present the normal pattern of "Being Led By the Holy Spirit".

11:00 a.m. - Worship Service: Jesus was born and raised in the Jewish faith. This faith was filled with traditions that developed over many years. As the Son of God, Jesus set aside many traditions and established more righteous ways. Those observing His ministry had many questions. This Sunday's sermon is "Facing Life's Big Questions".

GREETINGS FROM ST. JAMES

by Caroline Jefferson

Men's Group will meet on Tuesday, Feb. 4 at 7 p.m. in the Parish Hall and the Women's L.I.F.E. Group will meet on Tues., Feb. 18 at 7 p.m. in the Parish Hall - weather permitting for both!

Our church family was deeply saddened by the death of Ms. Bea Sticklen Bare this past Saturday night. Bea was truly a rock on which St. James relied for her many years of active participation and a shining example of how one should live when life's breaths are numbered! I could fill a book about her as her life spoke volumes, but when all is said, the one statement that sums up Ms. Bea is that she loved God, her family, friends and country! Rest in peace Ms. Bea, you are truly home and heaven's halls are much brighter because of you!

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN by Barbara Browning

What a winter we are having - is the Lord telling us to slow down? Perhaps.

Bro. Jim's message was about the parable of the wicked Vinedressers, from Matthew 21:33-46. Very simply, our Master is coming back and He will judge us based on how we have dealt with and used the blessings He entrusted to us.

Our Youth Lock-in (6th grade and up) is January 31.

Choir practice resumes February 2, 5:30 p.m. working on music for the Easter season.

February 9 is "Wear Red to Church" Sunday to raise awareness of heart disease in women.

A Memorial Service for Bro. Eudell Hall will be February 9, 6:30 p.m. to which you are invited.

February 15 is our Ladies Banquet at 6 p.m.

Sympathy to the loved ones of Mrs. Tillie Odor, Sanford Meyer, Bea Sticklen Bare, Tom Stephenson and Brooklyn Heminger. Other prayer concerns include Bobby Johnson, Samantha McNabb, Betty Mitchell, Bill Fultz, Jordan Massey, Kevin Hamilton, Wade Smith, Sue Lucas, Marilyn Galloway, Larry Powell, John & Edna Holleran, Donna Parker, Tony Rogers, cancer concerns, shut-ins, armed forces and our leaders.

With Heartfelt Thanks!

The Family of Melinda (Mindy) Insko would like to express their thanks and appreciation to all of our family, friends and well-wishers who surrounded us with their love and care during the loss of a mother, daughter, sister and aunt. We were deeply touched by numerous calls, texts, visits, prayers, food, and words of encouragement. Your acts of kindness and generosity made our burden more bearable.

We thank you from the depth of our hearts.

May you be blessed.

PRESBYTERIAN POTPOURRI by Les Grooms, pastor Augusta Presbyterian

The inclement weather kept a number of worshippers home Sunday. We had 28 in attendance which is about one half of the usual amount. Our Bible Study class was smaller also with seven in attendance.

Millie Bush led the worship, Susie Hargett led the singing, Shelby England had children's church, and Kay Grooms did the power point.

The Ministerial Assoc. had a meeting at 12:00 to plan for the Lenten Services. We still have some planning to do.

Our Monday night soup suppers continue to grow. This past Monday we had our largest crowd of the year and we gave away about ten coats. Stop by and visit with us on Monday evening from 4-6 p.m. to enjoy some soup, sandwiches, desserts, and fellowship and pick up a winter coat if your need one.

Roger Cheesbro will be the guest minister for the next two weeks. Roger usually brings his guitar and sings some songs as well as preaching meaningful sermons. Come and enjoy these special two weeks.

My sermon this week was about Jesus beginning his ministry.

SOUP SUPPER

4:00 pm - 6:30 pm

- Soup, sandwich, dessert and drink
- Free meal to all, please come in and eat.

NEW LIFE FELLOWSHIP by Beverly Whittaker

Just as we have seasons of the year, we also have seasons of our lives. We had to cancel Sunday School this morning, but had worship service on this snowy and cold, January 26.

B.J.Kirk sang the special entitled "At The Midnight Cry When Jesus Comes Again!". Pastor Jeremiah Hansen brought the message with the text being from Romans 8:5-8. We have freedom from defeat if we live and walk in the Spirit of Christ.

The bowling party for the youth was cancelled yesterday because of the severe weather. The youth are planning to go to Bracken Center next Sun., Feb. 2nd from 1-3 p.m.

Feb. 14 is our annual Valentine's Day Banquet at the church. We will have our traditional Newlywed Game.

Feb. 21 is Winter Jam 2014 at the U.S. Bank Arena in Cincinnati. Tickets are $10 at the door.

We had a surprise birthday celebration after church for Harold Johnson. His birthday was January 24th and he is a blessing to everyone.

Christian sympathy is extended to the families of Bea Sticklen Bare and Tom Stephenson. May the Lord bring you strength and comfort.

We invite you to any of our services. Our Wednesday evening meal begins at 6 p.m. and prayer/youth group meets at 7 p.m. Our Kingdom Builder's classes begin at 9:30 a.m. for all ages and praise and worship at 10:30 a.m. Remember God loves you and so do we!

All the News That Is News

Mark's Americana Corner
By Mark Bishop

I am sitting in the office today, enjoying the peace and the quiet I seem to rarely find these days. Remember, I still have kids at home—and they have lots of friends who think they live here, too; so peace and quiet is a luxury that I indulge to the utmost when the opportunity arises.

But I am at peace with my place in life. I enjoy the noise of a full house and of laughter and antics. I also enjoy the placid moments. It's all good.

I took a few minutes this morning to sit by the fireplace and read the local papers. Here in Irvine, Kentucky, we have two different newspapers that both come out only once a week. There isn't enough that happens in our county to merit a daily paper, so we get our news in weekly blocks.

Truth is, as small as our little county is, most folks know what is happening in the county well before the paper comes out. But still, it's nice to have a paper to read.

Some of you who live in small towns like ours might know what I'm talking about when I tell you that my favorite regular articles to read in the paper are the regional reports from different areas of the county. It's where a "local reporter" will write and tell you what is going on in that part of the county, and usually it's not very much!

But that's the charm of it all. For those who have never seen it, let me tell you how much fun it is to read that the Millers just got back from a vacation to Pike's Peak, or that so-and-so family is welcoming a baby home, or that the potholes on the road down to the creek got filled this week. You know...important stuff!

After watching the national news on television and seeing how things are in such a mess, it is refreshing to see that close to home, people are living their lives and things are going along just fine. I'm glad to hear that the Browns have a new baby calf in the barn or that there is going to be a neighborhood yard sale on the Saturday after next week. It is the ebb and the flow of our little part of the world that has the greatest effect on us anyway.

It's great to have some of the conveniences we have today I guess; but there is a lot that I miss about my growing-up days too, like keeping up with what's going on in my neighborhood. But thanks to my local newspaper, I can know that Mr. and Mrs. Pendlebrook had a better-than-expected crop of tomatoes this summer.

What's more important than that?

Kentucky State Parks Announce Family Adventure Quest for 2014

The 2014 Kentucky State Parks Family Adventure Quest is ready for some families!

This year, the digital photo scavenger hunt for families or friends, in teams of two to six people, is celebrating both the 90th anniversary of Kentucky State Parks, and the 280th birthday celebration of Daniel Boone.

Many of the quests will be tied to park history or Daniel Boone. Teams have until Dec. 1, 2014, to complete as many quests as they like in an effort to not only have fun, but to win prizes. It's a great goal-oriented way to explore the natural and historical resources of the nation's finest park system.

While a few challenges are park-specific, most can be answered at any of multiple parks, and a few can even be answered right from your living room. Maybe you will seek out a tree species Boone used for a canoe, play a pioneer game, identify a Civilian Conservation Corps structure, or use your quest-supplied compass to follow in Boone's footsteps! A digital camera is necessary to capture your team's fun along your journey, and your photos just might show up on the Kentucky State Parks website or Facebook page.

In its ninth year, the quest has seen families turn the program into a tradition, bringing together generations of family members each year to create family memories; some even breaking off into new teams as the years pass. Participants from age 5 months to 87 years young have enjoyed the thrill of the hunt. For The May team, of Versailles, the quest served as the backdrop for their baby's first time swimming and her first wooly worm sighting!

Hannah Lackey of Somerset said of her family's first year experience, "This was a great family activity. Our kids are 3 and 6 years old, and they had a lot of fun. We often brought picnics, so the adventures were inexpensive too. Thank you!"

For anyone afraid you might not have time to visit so many parks, it is important to know that you have until Dec. 1, 2014 to complete, and as few as four park visits are required to earn the first prize level – if you do your homework. By correctly completing just 10 quests, a team will receive a certificate for a one-night stay at the park lodge of its choice (Sunday – Thursday) and free passes to park museums or forts. Complete 20 quests and receive the stay and passes, plus a $25 Kentucky State Parks gift card. Complete 25 of the 28 quests and get the stay, passes, and a $50 gift card!

A $15 registration fee gets you the quest booklet, a commemorative jute tote bag, a compass/keychain (for first 240 registrants), bonus BOGO coupon for one of the destinations involved, and informational materials to help you along your way.

Registration forms are available at www.parks.ky.gov (look for the "Family Adventure Quest" button), where you can also peruse the photo gallery of past participants. Photos must be submitted in electronic format on a CD.

HMH's Laboratory Department receives accreditation from College of American Pathologists

Harrison Memorial Hospital Laboratory, Cynthiana, KY, has been awarded accreditation by the Accreditation Committee of the College of American Pathologists (CAP), based on the results of a recent onsite inspection.

The laboratory's medical director, Patrick C. Crowe, M.D. was advised of this national recognition and congratulated for the excellence of the services being provided. Harrison Memorial Hospital's Laboratory Department is one of more than 7,000 CAP-accredited laboratories worldwide.

The CAP Laboratory Accreditation Program, begun in the early 1960s, is recognized by the federal government as being equal or more stringent than the government's own inspection program.

During the CAP accreditation process, inspectors examine the laboratory's records and quality control of procedures for the preceding two years. CAP inspection also examines laboratory staff qualifications, as well as the laboratory's equipment, facilities, safety program and record in addition, to the overall management of the laboratory. This stringent inspection program is designed to specifically ensure the highest standard of care for all laboratory patients.

Leadership Horizons Explores Health and Human Services Day

The 2013-2014 Leadership Horizons class had a full agenda for their monthly session which took place on Thursday, January 9th. The session's focus was on health and human services within our Buffalo Trace District. The day began at Fleming County Hospital where the diverse group of community leaders were treated to a wonderful breakfast which included a presentation by hospital CEO, David Faulkner. The group was also given an enlightening tour of the hospital campus including the Sleep Lab and the new X-Ray room. The eventful day then moved onto the Women's Crisis Center (WCC) who provided an in-depth tour of their facility. Leadership Horizon participants were impressed by the numbers of lives touched by the WCC; it was evident what an impact the center has on those that utilize the facility. As part of the group's initiative to show its support to the community, Leadership Horizon members presented the center with donations of household items at their visit.

The day continued with a new addition to the Health & Human Services Day agenda, as the group visited Kenton Pointe Assisted Living and the Care Center at Kenton Pointe, both entities of the non-profit organization, Hospice of Hope. At this beautiful new community addition the group was treated to a delicious lunch, tours of the facility and a run-down of services provided to its residents/patients. PrimaryPlus and its trademarked LEAP program were also on-hand at Kenton Pointe to provide free health screenings to leadership participants.

The final stop of the day came with a visit to Meadowview Regional Medical Center (MRMC). The Leadership Horizon's group was provided with a thorough tour of the facilities including seeing many of the new upgrades and expansion projects completed by the community hospital. Robert Parker, CEO of MRMC closed the tour with an overview of the Affordable Care Act and what it means for citizens of our region.

The 2013-2014 Leadership Horizons class includes Amber Barbour, Brandon Bettinger, Tom Birt, Linda Brown, Andrea Calland, Rebecca Cartmell, Brande Doyle, Jerri Hall, Cody Hazelrigg, Chris Horne, Robin

Hutchinson, Alexander Hycza, Angie Ishmael, Tara McCarty, Melanie Mineer, Randy Newberry, Jason Planck, Angie Potter, Tim Pugh, Rick Sidwell, Mike Smith, Sean Stewart and Gena Turner. Co-sponsors of the Health & Human Services Day, many of whom are graduates of Leadership Horizons, included Joyce Fidler of Fleming County Hospital; Tracy McGuire of PrimaryPlus; and Pam Tribby, Michael Parker, Katherine Rose and Dana Latham of Hospice of Hope.

TRASH TALK

by: Mr. Recycle Bin & Ms. Pick-Up Litterbug

606-735-9960

Howdy Folks! Can we say PATIENCE? This is a winter that we have not experienced in this area for a number of years and it is forcing us to realize that not all winters are created equal! For those of you wanting something to do, a Google search of the harshest weather that this part of the country has experienced will be most revealing! Needless to say, we, like many of you, have lived through some of these record-breaking storms and collectively, we can tell those less-experienced in surviving winter storms, that this will pass! What is important to remember is to keep a good attitude! Our State and County Road Departments are doing the best they can to keep up with the storms and remind us that when road temperatures are below 15 degrees, salt will not work! Brine works a little better in lower temperatures, but with the temperatures and wind chills that are gripping the area, Mother Nature continues to show us just who is in charge!

This is Kentucky winter at its worse and our main job is to be prepared at home, at work and on the road. Make sure there are sufficient staples in the pantry that can be eaten out of the can or bag, because power can be interrupted without warning, especially if we get heavy winds and even more so if the power lines are covered in ice! At work, be sure to keep abreast of any developing weather situations. Employers should be sympathetic to employees who must travel a distance and allow them to leave ahead of an oncoming snow or ice storm. And on the road, keep blankets, a flash light, extra water, maybe a snack, and even extra medication. With cell phones on almost everyone's person, communication might seem to be a given, but there are 'dead' areas where these devices will not work, so keep that in mind.

Along with patience, we must all engage in using common sense! Don't leave the house without sufficient clothing, meaning dress for the weather! Wearing too much clothing trumps not having on enough any day! Jackets, hats and gloves can be removed, but if you don't have them with you, you sure can't put them on! Walking out the door into the attached garage is certainly handy, but we sometimes forget to check outdoors! Please stay tuned to weather reports and act accordingly. Plows can remove snow one minute and with blowing winds, the area can be recovered in five minutes! Drive defensively and expect a snow drift around the next bend. Know your travel route and pay attention to where the snow drifts usually occur. As we stated, the road departments generally work two shifts 24/7 during the worst of the storms, so be aware that the plows need room to operate. Most mail boxes are situated on the right of way of the roads, and occasionally they become a victim of a plow, but again, it is not done intentionally -- just one of the hazards of being a mailbox in Kentucky during the winter!

Finding the humor in every situation will help get us through and if ever there were a lady who could put a smile on your face, it was Ms. Bea Sticklen Bare! Though many tragedies found her, they always found her steadfast in her faith and belief in God's will! Not only did Ms. Bea pass away last week, the community is also mourning the tragic and untimely death of Mr. Tom Stephenson. Tom was a 4-H Leader for many years and active in many organizations in Bracken County. When faced with death, the weather we are experiencing is merely a hiccup in the overall scheme of life. We pray for comfort for these two wonderful families and ask that the good Lord protect and guide us as each passing day brings us one day closer to spring. We honor the memory of these two leaders when we ask you to RECYCLE, REUSE and REDUCE to keep God's earth clean, green and beautiful! Be seen' you - Bin & Bug.

Hunters post another record deer harvest in Kentucky

A year after establishing an overall deer harvest record, Kentucky hunters did it again.

The 2013-14 deer season in Kentucky ended Jan. 20 with a total harvest of 144,404 animals. That represents a gain of more than 9 percent over the previous record set during the 2012-13 season.

"This year we were ahead of the curve," said David Yancy, deer biologist with the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. "Hunters harvested more deer in September than they ever had, the October youth weekend was the best it had been since 2008, there was a slightly better than average muzzleloader season and then modern gun season was way better than it normally is. It sort of held throughout."

A spotty crop of acorns and other hard mast across Kentucky had deer on the move, and made them more vulnerable to hunters.

An increase of about 9,000 deer permits sold – about one third of those coming through youth sportsman's licenses – also meant there were more hunters in the field.

"The poor acorn crop was a major factor in getting those deer out into the open and into the harvested corn fields and the food plots," said Tina Brunjes, deer program coordinator with Kentucky Fish and Wildlife. "The weather during the modern gun season and during the muzzleloader season was not as wonderful as it was last season, but we didn't have any epic ice storms or some sort of huge flood. Hunters were able to get out."

Harvest totals for firearms, archery, muzzleloading and crossbow were up across the board. A record 104,619 deer were taken by firearms hunters. Archery hunters harvested 20,833 whitetails while muzzleloader hunters bagged 15,641 deer and crossbow hunters reported taking 3,311 deer.

Male deer accounted for nearly 54 percent of the deer harvested. Out of the 77,719 male deer taken, 9,962 were antlerless, according to telecheck data.

Three of the top five counties in terms of estimated deer densities produced the top harvest totals. Hunters in Owen County took 4,069 whitetails to lead the state followed by Pendleton County with 3,464 and Crittenden County with 3,033.

Kentucky's deer herd was estimated at approximately 900,000 prior to the season. Herd estimates are derived through computer modeling that takes into account harvest and age structure data.

Brunjes tempered her expectations for this past season, thinking it might be average compared to the record harvest of 131,395 deer posted in 2012-13.

"We ended up with a huge, record-breaking year," she said.

After a second record harvest in as many seasons, deer are looking at a landscape that has more to offer, Brunjes said.

"The potential is there for the does that make it through this cold winter to have really high fawning success, and those bucks that make it through this cold winter, they're going to be the best of the best," she said. "If we can get a good spring, we might not see the numbers next year, but we'll see a lot of quality deer out there."

College hoops rates 3 per cent?; Louisville '14 has a Bobby Bowden schedule

A Harris Poll told us last week that college basketball not only ranks last among America's favorite sports, but is favorite sport of only three per cent in USA.

Adolph Rupp just turned over and groaned. But, here in God's meadow where Kentuckians boast back-to-back national championships, we know better.

And last weekend provided us a few gems to savor.

- In Lexington Kentucky's almost forgotten freshman Derek Willis got a rebound, turned, ignored all things left or right and dribbled up court with an expression on his face that said, "I am Kobe! Outa my way!" He had one thing in view, the rim. Willis split defenders, made a twisting lay-up and brought Rupp Arena's 22,000-plus crowd to its feet. This IS God's meadow!

Willis's was a connection moment with longtime Wildcat watchers who recognize - kid did what a long list of native sons have done for decades at UK - got a chance, took it, exceeded expectation and fans got their Moment's worth too.

- In Monroe Louisiana on Saturday, Western Kentucky trailed host Monroe by 10 points midway first half then went on a 25-1 scoring rampage and won its 13th in 20 games. WKU's run of points was impressive, but more so the Hilltoppers clinical defense. Superb.

- 40-0. Irony this numbers set originated with Wildcats in Lexington and is now a possibility for Wildcats at Arizona. Sean Miller's team (20-0) dismantled Utah Sunday with defense and heady play to demonstrate here is a top of marquee college team. Unselfish, rhythmic A joy to watch.

- Then, there was a poll. ESPN.com offered a Harris Poll last week. Ranking fan favorite sports in 2014.

- 35 percent said the NFL is America's favorite.

- 14 percent said Major League Baseball.

- 11 percent, college football.
- Seven percent, auto racing.
- Six percent, NBA.
- Five percent, NHL.
- Three percent, College basketball.

Comment: This was warning anew we ought be skeptical and suspicious of polls. All polls on anything.

Ironically, ESPN Harris poll story undid its credibility with first sentence of last paragraph. "A sport's popularity varies greatly based on demographics," the writer concluded.

Really. Left unreported - what slice of America was data taken? What social stratum? What time of year or time of week was survey done?

That college basketball rated three percent, begs an answer to this question: (With tongue in cheek) How did Harris Poll researchers manage to leave out data from, say: Kansas, Oklahoma, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, North Carolina and West Virginia.

The ESPN story did provide a nugget or two of interest.

- ✓ More people who live in rural areas on the East coast say they're fans of the NFL than the general U.S. population.

- ✓ Those with an annual household income of more than $100,000 are more likely to be baseball fans. African Americans are less likely to enjoy the sport.

- ✓ More southerners call college football their favorite sport.

- ✓ Those with a high school education or less gravitate to auto racing.

In the end, polls are like a ventriloquist's dummy? Whatever The Man wants Woody to say.

LOUISVILLE FOOTBALL

Season tickets for Louisville football 2014 may break records. We haven't seen a schedule like this anywhere since Bobby Bowden took over at Florida State in 1976 and said, "we'll play anybody anywhere," and did.

The first year in the Atlantic Coast Conference Cardinals open with Miami, play at Clemson in the middle, face defending national champion Florida State at home Thursday before Halloween, then travel to Notre Dame before Thanksgiving, and close at home a weekend later against Kentucky.

READERS (RIGHT) WRITE

Question: Having written about anemic non-conference schedules for Kentucky and Louisville this year, what changes would you suggest?

Answer: Fans paying top dollar to see their teams play in two of the college game's most prominent arenas, Rupp Arena and Yum Center, deserve attractive home games ahead of arranged-by-television money games.

KENTUCKY. Instead of Michigan State in Chicago, Providence in New Jersey and Baylor in Dallas, and Texas Arlington and Eastern Michigan at Rupp, the Wildcats should play schools from a pool: Dayton, St. Louis, Cincinnati, West Virginia and Western Kentucky. Also, home-and-home contracts with Pittsburgh, Indiana, Oklahoma State and/or Ohio State.

LOUISVILLE. Rick Pitino's team is ranked in the top 15, but its strength of schedule is 75th. Poor for a defending national champion. Cardinal paying customers deserve better opponents, play teams from the pool mentioned for Kentucky.

CHEERS! KOBE

Worthwhile, a Kobe Bryant opinion last week. The Los Angeles Laker guard who skipped college and went straight to the NBA, told LakersNation.com readers the NCAA isn't helping 'players.' All should make their own decisions," Kobe says. "...going out and working and having a job. You should be able to make your own choices."

Bravo. Every 17-18-year-old 'player' should go straight to the NBA's developmental league if he chooses instead of wasting time pretending to be a student. Kobe's not-new idea would dismantle one-and-done, open scholarships to student-athletes and level the playing field for coaches who recruit players and student-athletes.

Of course, Kobe Bryant's view of the world is from a mansion in sunny California where he can safely believe every 18-year-old kid is "ready to play, man."

WORTH REPEATING

Mike Krzyzewski watched another Duke team score a landmark victory for his legacy last week. 900th win at one school.

Coach K's reaction? Been blessed, he said to (coach) at "one of the greatest schools in the world. Great schools don't necessarily always have great people in command."

Amen. And so it goes.
